HONOURS AND AWARDS

Undergraduate

- Thomas Yates Prize in Practical Anatomy (3rd)
- Sidney Kaye Prize in Physiology (3rd)
- Cayley Senior Prize in Biochemistry(1st)
- Frank Scott Prize for the most promising 1st year student (1st)
- Charlotte Dixon Prize in Neurology (1st)
- Class Pharmacology Prize (1st)
- Prize in Psychology and Sociology (1st)
- Merit in Environment and Nutrition
- Myerstein Scholarship for best overall performance
- Medical Research Council grant to complete a BSc
- Prankerd Jones elective award
- Mrs Charles Davies Prize in Medicine (2nd)
- Sydney Long Prize in Surgery (1st)

Postgraduate

- Winner of the WJ Little medal for best presentation at Seddon Society 1995
- Merck / Muckergee prize for best poster at British Orthopaedic Association 1995
- 4th Smith and Nephew Prize for presentation at BOA Instructional Course 1996
- EFORT Travelling Fellowship 1997
- Sir Walter Mercer Medal for best performance in FRCS (Orth) 1997
- Khazenifar medal for best performance in clinical examination, MCh (Orth), 1997
- Examiners prize for best overall performance in the MCh (Orth) examination , 1997
- John Charnley Trust Fellowship 1998
- BOA / Wishbone Trust Travelling Fellowship 1998
- Norman Capener Travelling Fellowship 1998
- Sir Herbert Seddon Prize at the Royal National Orthopaedic Hospital for dissertation on the mucopolysaccharidoses, 1998
- Winner of the best presentation award at the British Columbia and Yukon Arthritis Society, 1998
- 1st Poster Prize, SICOT International Meeting, Sydney 1999
- 1st Paper Prize, American Hip Society Meeting, San Diego 1999
- Poster Prize, SICOT, Paris 2001
- Two Pfizer Academic Travel Awards 2003
- British Hip Society Travelling Fellowship 2003
- ABC Travelling Fellowship 2004
- Hunterian Professor, Royal College of Surgeons of England, 2005

RESEARCH ACTIVITY

My aim is to undertake clinical and basic science research at a level of international excellence.

I am almost unique in the UK as a clinical academic who combines a large volume clinical practice involving more than 1000 operations per year, with renowned research in the fields of hip and knee implant and joint preservation surgery.

My area of research has high value for patients, healthcare providers and industry because the implantation of orthopaedic devices is increasingly exponentially (in 2012, >1 million hip and 1 million knee replacements were performed worldwide and 80,000 of each in the UK). There is considerable commercialisation potential in the field of better functioning and longer lasting hip replacements over the next 20 years. The global market for hip and knee replacement was worth $11.4 billion dollars in 2008, and this is estimated to increase by 673% for knee and 173% for hip implants by 2030. Revision surgery is becoming more common and more complex and can be minimised through better joint preserving surgery at a young age, good implant design, appropriate surgery and patient selection. My research will continue to be aimed at deferring the need for joint replacement, optimising function after joint arthroplasty, increasing the longevity of orthopaedic implants, evaluating the outcomes of patients with these implants, and reducing the number of failure that require revision surgery. This will benefit our patients and the UK economy.

I have spent the last 20 years setting up a variety of outcome modules and outcome studies after ACL reconstruction, total hip and total knee replacement as well as revision surgery at University College London Hospitals and the Princess Grace Hospital.

I have set up collaborations with anaesthetic, ITU and neuropsychology colleagues. At present there are studies ongoing into risk assessment and risk scoring in joint arthroplasty patients, into expectations both in disease specific situations and in relation to surgical intervention for sports knee reconstructions as well as arthroplasties and revisions, into quality of life prior and after surgery and functional measures both in primary and revision joint replacement.

I have instituted a programme of data collection within integrated care pathways, data bases and studies that have allowed us to collate and follow-up a number of cohorts in order to study sports injuries, knee and hip reconstructions and joint replacement outcomes and we are in the process of evaluating psychometric data, inflammatory markers and functional tests in the early post-operative period to correlate with medium term and longer term outcomes.

I have published on the use of the POMS scoring system looking at peri-operative morbidity and its impact on the economics of hospital admission and hospital stay.

I am now in a position to look at quality of life measures and functional measures in relation to primary and revision joint replacement and compare these.

I have introduced the latest iteration of robotic knee and hip surgery in the UK and have set up a number of prospective studies in this area.

I have treated over 450 patients with peri-prosthetic infections which have been very carefully recorded and databased and have been treated according to a standardised protocol which will be ready for publication within the next year. This has included a prospective randomised study of static versus mobile spacers for infected TKR. I have introduced an algorithm for single stage revision for infection that has been adopted internationally.

I have set up research focused on knee joint preservation. We have selected cohorts for over ten years of clinical details, imaging, operative details and scores on patients with acute knee injuries and their subsequent treatment, including meniscal repair, meniscal resection, meniscal replacement, ligament reconstruction and osteotomies. I now have a large set of cohorts that we are starting to analyse in an effort to understand knee joint preservation and, ultimately, the impact of sports' injuries, and the associated surgery on subsequent osteo-arthritis. These cohorts and their analysis, in collaboration with other centres, contribute to the ARUK national centre for sport and osteo-arthritis.

I have set up a system for embedded data collection at the ISEH whereby all patients coming through will have body composition analysis, provide basic demographics and all the exercise equipment and testing equipment will collect data so that we can analyse changes over time.

I have used research funds obtained to set up an RSA imaging system to look at the musculo-skeletal system before and after surgery and evaluate new implants. I have also set up an imaging modality within the ISEH that allows us to under fluoroscopy and understand joint kinematics better than we have done in the past. We have also set up a biomechanics laboratory in ISEH that will allow us to evaluate outcomes functionally as well as by questionnaire and PROMS.

The system that I have set up collates cohorts of certain phenotypes with solid datasets for future interrogation.

I have developed a unique referral practice for pelvic avulsion injuries and a large referral practice for injuries and early osteo-arthritis of the hip and knee to specialist clinics and will allow the analysis of these cohorts and associated data sets in order to determine significant biomarkers for healing, functional recovery and disease progression, and to help us to clarify appropriate interventions for these problems.

I fund and supervise eight research Fellows at any one time, each of whom has their own project within my research theme, which will continue into higher degrees or be passed on to the next set of Fellows. These include:

- The evaluation of failing implants, including metal on metal hips, corrosion, trunnion failure and the evaluation and introduction of innovative prostheses.
- The use of stem cells and coatings to enhance implant osteo-integration with particular reference to complex revision surgery and amputation prostheses.
- The prevention of biofilm formation and infection in orthopaedic surgery with linkage to a unique and massive clinical experience in the management of infected patients. I am led a subgroup in the first international consensus meeting which was held in Philadelphia in 2013 to look at the global impact of orthopaedic infections.
- Evaluation after any ligament injury, analysing large cohorts of injured knees, innovative ways of measuring outcomes after ACL surgery and providing the basis for analysis for a national knee ligament registry.
- Methods of evaluating new implants as they are introduced into the market, particularly for younger patients. I have developed novel scoring systems that do not have the ceiling effect. We are now using treadmills that allow uphill and downhill walking and simulated stair-climbing to look at outcome in a more critical way and differentiate for active patients. Linked into RSA methodologies, this should allow us to have greater clarity about how close we are to achieving normal function for our arthroplasty patients.
- Peri-operative inflammation after orthopaedic interventions and its impact on short and long outcome. I have two Fellows looking at the inflammatory response to orthopaedic surgery, and the factors that can influence it.
- My unit has been at the forefront of the introduction of hip preservation surgery. I have a large collection of joint preservation procedures and have piloted novel software to look at impact collision at the time of impingement. The analysis of this cohort in association with colleagues elsewhere in the sport and osteo-arthritis centre will help us to define the role of joint preservation surgery.
- I have a team analysing national joint registry data in orthopaedics, looking at outcomes in relation to variables such as case mix complexity, BMI and length of surgery.
- I run a number of prospective randomized studies comparing different implant types and implant philosophies.

257. A question of quality conference – London, April 4
 - Collaboration for care – Clinical partnerships
258. Principles of total hip, knee and shoulder arthroplasty – April 7-8, 2017 Hotel Parchi Del Garda, Pacengo di Lazise, Italy
 - Chair
 - Welcome and introduction
 - Implant fixation
 - Moderator for case discussion: Hip.
 - Take-home messages
259. Lyon Hip Arthroplasty Instability – Lyon, April 13-14, 2017
 - Total hip Arthroplasty performed thanks to Mako Robotic Arm Assisted, interest and return from my experience
 - Large head impact on hip stability
260. Robotic-Arm Assisted solutions in Joint Arthroplasty, London, April 19, 2017
 - Chairperson welcome
 - Implementation, learning curve and early experience in the UK
 - Open Session
 - Lessons and opportunities in the UK
 - Q&A – Close
261. EKS Arthroplasty Conference, London, April 20-21, 2017
 - Sagittal stability can best be obtained with surface congruency

262. AORecon Course – Principles of Complex Total Hip and Knee Arthroplasty, Marseille, France, May 04-05
 - Chairperson
 - Optimizing the patient journey intraoperatively : avoiding complications
 - Closing of module 2 – take home messages
 - Implant removal
 - Peri-prosthetic hip fracture
 - The outcomes: infection, function, survival

263. BOA Annual Congress 2017- Sports Trauma and Arthroscopy Revalidation Liverpool, England, September 19-22
 - Co-chair
 - BOSTAA Travelling Fellowship Report
 - Welcome to BOSTAA 2017 Meeting

264. The International Society for Technology in Arthroplasty, Seoul, Korea, September 22-23,2017
 - Moderator, Speaker
 - The Infected Joint Replacement- Diagnosis and Treatment
 - Prosthetic Infections
 - Knee- Unicompartmental Knee Arthroplasty

265. Taiwan Orthopedic Association: Visiting Professor and Presidential Guest Speaker October 25-28, 2017
 - Lin-Kou Chang Gung Memorial Hospital, Taoyuan city, Taiwan
Grand Round Topic: Innovation: When, Where and how?
 - Chiayi Chang Gung Memorial Hospital, Puzi city, Taiwan
Special Lecture Topic: The Introduction of Robotic Technology in Hip and Knee Arthroplasty
 - Kaohsiung Chang Gung Memorial Hospital, Kaohsiung City, Taiwan
Special Lecture Topic: The Evolving Management of the infected Arthroplasty
 - National Taiwan University Hospital International Convention – TOA
Topic: tapers, Modularity and Lessons Learnt from the Metal on Metal Debacle
 - National Taiwan University Hospital International Convention – TOA/APKS (Asia Pacific Knee Society)
Topic: Measuring Function Following Hip and Knee Surgery

266. AORecon/ASIA Symposium – Current Solutions for Periprosthetic Fractures & emerging Techniques in Total Hip and Knee Arthroplasty, Tokyo, Japan, November 16 2017 – Chairman and session moderator
 - Current Solutions for Periprosthetic Fractures: Revision hip arthroplasty
 - Emerging Techniques in Total Hip and Knee Arthroplasty: Prosthetic joint infections: Update in diagnosis and treatment

267. Great Expectations Toronto: Trauma and Joint Replacement Symposium, Guest Speaker. November 17-18, 2017
- Revision TKA: Metaphyseal fixation in revision TKA
 - Primary THA: Are there other options than the DA for THA: The direct superior approach
 - Revision THA: Managing bone loss during revision acetabular surgery
 - Robotics: Robotic UKA surgery

ROLE IN EDUCATION/UNIVERSITY COLLEGE LONDON TEACHING

- I compiled and edited a book on orthopaedic trauma for undergraduates and junior doctors that was published in 2008 and has a wide circulation.
- I was chairman of the undergraduate cross-campus UCL Orthopaedics and Rheumatology Module until 2012.
- I introduced very successful special study modules in Orthopaedics and Sports at UCH / UCL
- I am programme director for the region including day to day management of 20 Orthopaedic ST3 trainees and above.
- I am Associate Director of Education at UCLP and am responsible for Surgical Specialties,
- I teach on regional and national hip, knee and sports courses
- I am the tutor and organiser of the Sports MSc and Performing Arts MSc at UCL
- I chair and run the yearly London Hip and London Knee Meetings that have >400 delegates
- I am on the Editorial Board of Bone & Joint Journal, J Arthroplasty, Annals RCS Eng, Hospital Medicine, Sports Injury Bulletin
- I review grants and papers for a number of bodies including Royal College of Surgeons and HTA.
- I am invited faculty at a number of international meetings included the prestigious Current Concepts Meeting and the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons.

Current Research Physiotherapists

Jenni Tahmassebi
Bruce Paton

I run an MSc in Sport & Exercise Medicine and Health which has grown every year and now includes distal learning.

I oversee the only MSc in Performing Arts in the UK

We have started a BSc and iBSc in Sport & Exercise Medicine starting Sept 2017

OTHER ENABLING

I developed a theatre model that was adopted as the gold standard by the UCH McKinsey review. The average orthopaedic operating day typically comprised 4 major cases; by using 2 operating theatres, a fast turnaround and cohesive working, I undertake 10-12 major cases including a large number of complex tertiary referrals. This provides an excellent training model for juniors who see large patient numbers and do more as their experience increases.

I have generated grants/bursaries for 8 research fellows at any one time, a research physiotherapist and a research secretary.

I have used personally generated grants and industry funds to appoint research fellows who augment our clinical service at UCH - we have more than doubled throughput in my clinics and dealt with the reduction in junior hours.

I have developed an outcomes research programme for the evaluation of functional outcomes in hip / knee surgery particularly in active patients. I run multicentre studies of hip and knee replacement outcomes including the development and evaluation of modern techniques such as navigation, resurfacing and novel bearing surfaces. I have led the introduction of PROMS in Orthopaedics at UCH.

I have introduced modern robotic arthroplasty surgery to the UK. We acquired the first Mako robotic arm in early 2016 and there are now a number of ongoing studies.

I developed the London Hip Meeting in 2001 and chair it yearly. It has had > 400 delegates since 2010. The London Knee Meeting has followed a similar pattern. I am an invited speaker at many international meetings on the basis of recent research.

I have developed interdisciplinary meetings with microbiology and radiology.
I have embedded outcomes measures in daily practice such (eg ICPs) to improve data collection
I have designed a number of modern implants such that UCH's profile in Hip and Knee surgery has been raised.

I put in the proposals for an Institute of Sports, Exercise and Health at UCH and gained Department of Health Funding - £10Million – for the ISEH at 170 Tottenham Court Road. We have recently gained recognition by the award of an International Olympic Committee Research Centre – one of only 10 worldwide

I run basic science studies in collaboration with the bioengineering unit at the Institute of Orthopaedics and the Institute of Human Performance.
I run multicentre studies of hip and knee replacement outcomes, including the development and evaluation of modern techniques such as navigation, resurfacing and modern bearing surfaces.

I developed a novel cable system for periprosthetic fractures.
I have a new revision hip stem that started trials in 2009, a new knee replacement that started production in mid 2010, and a new hip system that is currently in clinical trials.

I have generated a large database of infected joint replacements and periprosthetic fractures that allows for regular presentations and publications and put me at the forefront of these areas.
I am an invited speaker at many international meetings on the basis of recent research. This includes presentations at the prestigious American Academy and Current Concepts Meetings.
I have been the Presidential Guest speaker at national Meetings in Argentina, Australia, South Korea, France, New Zealand and in the United States in the past 2 years.
